WAC Recalls Death March

At White Sands Missile Range, there is a WAC who vividly remembers December 7, 1941, and its effect on her native country, witnessed the historic Bataan Death March and knew of guerrilla warfare first hand.

She is petite PFC Rosario G. Mariano, a native of the Philippines and still a citizen of that country.

Many of Rosario's family have served in the American armed forces and now for her to be a member fulfills a long-lived desire.

She enlisted under her immigrant visa, but has filed her declaration of intent to become an American citizen and so within three years she will have fulfilled yet another hope.

In recalling December 7, she says her father, then with the U. S. Navy, had left the family to live in Manila although their home was in Santa Rita in nearby Pampanga Province. He had left without knowing when he would return. She thinks he may have been sent to Corregidor then.

Rosario, then nine years old, recalls she and her family had gone to religious services. As they were leaving the church, children in the streets were shouting that a war had begun and the Japanese had attacked Pearl Harbor.

Warm Nov. Is Now a WSMR History

Last month was the warmest November in the history of White Sands Missile Range, according to the monthly weather summary issued by the Meteorological Support Group of the U.S. Army Electronics Research and Development Activity.

It was also the only November since 1954 without freezing temperatures. The average maximum temperature was 66.9 degrees. High for the month was 77 degrees on the 14th. Low was 34 degrees on the 18th.

The outlook for December indicates that temperatures are expected to be below normal and precipitation more than usual.

Major Loomis Now Heads Sergeant Office

Redstone Arsenal, Ala. — Col. Jester M. Loomis, Jr. became manager of the Sergeant Project Office this week. With headquarters here at the U. S. Army Missile Command, Col. Loomis will direct management of the Sergeant ballistic missile system.

A native of Wann, Oklahoma, Col. Loomis was graduated from the University of Oklahoma with a Bachelor of Science degree in Petroleum engineering in 1938. He completed the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas in 1954.

Art Exhibition-Competition Celebrates Monument Birthday

White Sands National Monument will commemorate its 30th anniversary by holding an art exhibition-competition.

Any person may submit an entry of any art media (painting, carving, drawing, etc.) of White Sands only. Subjects may include plant or animal life. The entries may be submitted between Dec. 12 and 19. Pictures will be on exhibition from December 20 through January 6. Entries will be sent to White Sands National Monument, P. O. Box 458, Alamogordo, N. M. All entries must be submitted by December 19.

The winning entry will be chosen by public vote. Voting will be conducted in the lobby of the White Sands National Monument Visitor Center where the entries will be displayed.

Paintings will be mailed prepaid, and will be returned collect unless otherwise specified by the artist. Each artist is limited to one entry. Paintings must be properly framed and wired for hanging.

Attach registration blank to the back of the painting submitted. Include price if painting is for sale.

The National Park Service reserved the right to display or photograph for publicity any painting they wish, and to hold said entries for exhibition purposes.

Balloting will end at 1700 hours, Sat. Jan. 5, 1963. The trophies will be awarded at a reception to be held in the lobby of the Visitor Center on Tuesday, Jan. 6, 1963, at 1400 hours.

Christmas Came On a Wednesday At White Sands

Christmas came Wednesday for an enterprising group of people at White Sands Missile Range, N. M., who are approximately $5,000 richer for having participated in the Army's Incentive Awards program.

Santa, in the person of Maj. Gen. J. Frederick Thorlin, WSMR's commanding general, presented cash awards and certificates to 48 civilian employees at the national missile range in ceremonies at Community Center.

Of the group, 18 received checks ranging from $15 to $240 for adopted suggestions estimated to save the government approximately $13,000 a year. Twenty-five employees drew cash awards ranging from $100 to $250 for sustained superior performance ratings, and five received certificates in recognition of outstanding performances.

The largest take-home amount — a total of $440 — went to a husband-wife team from Las Cruces, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy P. Lozier Jr., for three separate citations.

Mrs. Lozier, statistical clerk with Range Services Division, Range Operations Directorate, drew the top suggestion money, $240, for (Continued on Page 7)

WSMR Leads In Fourth Army Entertainment

White Sands Missile Range, winner in its respective class last year, is again holding a substantial lead in this year's competition for the Fourth Army Entertainment Trophy.

The point total announced at the completion of the first quarter of Fiscal Year 1963 shows White Sands leading in Class "A" Competition for smaller posts. The missile range is ahead of Sandia Base by 1,405-1,326.

Points are accumulated by rehearsing and performing plays, music and other entertainment acts, according to Dr. William Naylor, Staff Entertainment Director, Fourth Army. The installation in each class with the most active program keeps the trophy for a one-year period.

Fund Watches Out for Distressed Dependents

White Sands Missile Range kicks off its Army Emergency Relief Campaign this week. From January 1st thru October 31st, 363 military personnel and their families were given assistance totaling $34,049.41 here at WSMR.

Army Emergency Relief was authorized by the Secretary of the War and incorporated as a perpetual organization on 5 February 1942, to collect and hold funds to relieve distress of members of the Army and their dependents.

Sharp New Outfit Rides Radio Waves

(This is the first of a series of articles to be presented on the Radio Propagation Agency and its activities in a critical area of operations at WSMR).

By S/Sgt O. D. JONES, Jr.
The newest activity to be located at White Sands Missile Range is Detachment 1, US Army Signal Radio Propagation Agency (USASRPA). It was born as a result of expansion authorization granted by the Chief Signal Officer in General Order 34, 29 June 1962 and spanned into breathing on 25 July 1962 by General Order 3 by Lt. Col. F. E. Waldorf, Commanding USASRPA.

The organization is engaged in specialized activities, all having to do with the transmitting and receiving of radio/electromagnetic signals from both authorized and spurious sources. These activities fall into three major but closely related areas of interest.

The first is the coordination of the allocation and use of all radio, radar, or other electromagnetic radiating equipment frequencies for military communications, missile, research or operations projects within the state of New Mexico and all other portions of United States territory within 150 miles radius of Headquarters, WSMR.

Secondly is the surveillance of that portion of the radio frequency spectrum wherein the above mentioned military efforts are, or may be, involved.

Third, but by no means the least, is the continuing measurement of the height of and the density of ionized particles in the ionosphere. This intelligence can be reduced to information accu-

AER is recognized as an important troop morale factor. It operates chiefly through its many Sections established at posts, commands and other Army installations located both in the CONUS and overseas, which are supplied with sufficient funds to meet local requirements.

Financial Assistance
Financial assistance is provided to members of the Army and their families whenever faced with emergencies beyond their ability to meet. Aid by your AER is not charity in the ordinary sense because the funds used are largely contributed by you and other members of the Army. Financial assistance is rendered on a personal and fraternal basis. AER is the long helping hand of the big Army family ever ready to help one of its members (Continued on Page 7)

New Chemical Officer Takes Liaison Post Here

Maj. Taylor, as liaison officer for the Chemical, Biological and Radiological Agency, will assist in the evaluation and analysis of chemical items of interest to the CBR agency being tested at White Sands and also will direct special tests.

The new liaison officer was formerly research and development coordinator at the Chemical Research and Development Laboratories at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.

A native of Illinois, he served in the European theater during World War II and in Korea from 1957 until 1958. Maj. Taylor holds the Army Commendation Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster and service medal with two combat citations.

He attended Chicago University and George Washington University in Washington, D. C. He has attended special Army chemical courses during his 22 years of military service.

He is married to the former Gertrude Burdell of Norwich, N. Y. They are living on post at White Sands.

Maj. Taylor is the son of Mrs. Mamie W. Taylor of 316 S. Hoyne, Chicago.

Noble is Considered for JAYCEE Outstanding Award

Maj. Gen. J. Frederick Thorlin announced last week that Edward O. Noble is being considered for the National Junior Chamber of Commerce award as one of the Nation's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1962.

Col. Charles L. Beaudry, director of Range Operations Directorate, received a letter from J. Kyle Goddard, manager of National Meetings, confirming this.

Noble is chief of Optical Systems Branch of ROD at the missile range and is mayor of Las Cruces. He was selected as WSMR's "Young Man of the Year" by a committee of top ranking personnel at WSMR.

According to Gen. Thorlin, the nomination cites Noble for outstanding accomplishments in both the scientific and public service fields.

During ten years' employment at the missile range Noble has become well known in the optical instrumentation realm. He has represented WSMR on national committees and is past chairman of the Optical Systems Working Group which coordinates optical instrumentation development among the nation's missile ranges.

At present, his organization is developing new equipment anticipated to increase accuracy in data gathering at WSMR.

Noble was elected to the Las Cruces City Commission in 1959 and has served as mayor during 1962. He is chairman of the Official (Continued on Page 2)

Si Zentner To Swing For WSMR

Another Big Band First for White Sands — Si Zentner and his orchestra — will perform for servicemen and dependents next Wednesday evening at the Post Theatre from 1800 to 1915 hours.

Countdown Dance
A dance at Countdown Service Club will follow from 2000 to 2030 hours. Both free performances are sponsored by Special Services.

High on Polls

Recognizing a need for true dancing music, Zentner, with an extensive background as one of the top trombonists with the dance band greats of the 1940s, decided to organize his own orchestra. In a short time his group was the rage of Hollywood and was voted the most promising band in both the Cash Box and Billboard annual disk jockey polls. Since, they have become one of the nation's hottest bands, bringing out dancers in the greatest numbers in twenty years.

Rated Tops By Critics

Distinguished critics as John S. Wilson of the New York Times, and Ted Morello of The New York World Telegram And Sun, praised Zentner. "Stripped of the clangor and leaden thump with which they are usually presented, Zentner has dressed current hits in richly voiced arrangements played with a light and swinging (Continued on Page 2)

A FAREWELL TO KILROY: FIND HIM UNDER 'K'

Kilroy 60 years old? Far worse—Kilroy dead?

Yes, that's the melancholy truth—news to sadden the hearts of millions of WWII veterans for whom Kilroy was one of the war's great legends. Wherever American troops traveled the words "Kilroy Was Here" were sure to turn up—often with the little sketch of a man peering over a wall. To the illustrious names that came out of the war—MacArthur, Eisenhower, Nimitz, King, Bradley—historians are certain always to add the one and only Kilroy! He was the U.S. fighting man—everywhere at once.

How did the Kilroy saga begin in the first place? Well, James J. Kilroy, who died recently in Boston at the age of 60, got a job in a Bethlehem Steel Co. shipyard at Quincy, Mass., two days before Pearl Harbor. As an inspector he began marking "Kilroy Was Here" on equipment so test crew would know he'd checked it.

It wasn't long before the phrase caught on with the troops and from then on there was no stopping it from Guadalcanal to Murmansk, from Normandy to Okinawa, Kilroy was there.

Today you'll find "Kilroy" in Webster's Third New International Dictionary as a "transient soldier." Mr. Kilroy became known as THE Kilroy after the war when the American Transit Assn. ran a nationwide contest to learn his identity. Still employed at the shipyard, Kilroy submitted proof that the legend had begun with him. As a prize the ATA delivered a 22-ton trolley car to his home.

And now that Kilroy's gone the war stories won't ever sound quite the same because the veterans who swap them will be feeling oh, so much older!

beat. At the same time, he takes a wallopingly rhythmic approach to old favorites...

"He steers his men through arrangements that are masterpieces of revery as punctuated by his suavely melodic trombone solo, and he brings dancers thronging to the dance floor."

Began As a Violinist

Si Zentner began his musical career at the age of 4 in Brooklyn. "Living in Brooklyn," says the trombonist, "was an education in itself. From age 4 to 15 I played the fiddle... and in Brownsville, that made life tough. I used to get clobbered when the kids saw me with my violin case."

Won Musical Scholarship

While concertmaster of his school orchestra, he formed his own dance band to play at school functions and local gatherings. He started playing other instruments, giving up the violin, and soon found the trombone to his liking. After six months on the sliding horn he won a coveted Philharmonic scholarship from the Guggenheim Foundation. This enabled him to get special instruction from Alfred E. Clark, first trombonist with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Early Start

As a teenager, Zentner began playing professionally in the Catskill Mountain circuit with such stars-to-be as Danny Kaye and Red Skelton. In 1939 he joined Les Brown playing lead trombone for three years. He switched from Brown to Abe Lyman's orchestra. He later joined Harry James and went to the West Coast as a musician for radio and motion pictures.

Featured Soloist

Zentner subsequently became a featured soloist with Jimmy Dorsey's outfit. After a year with Dorsey, he seriously considered forming his own band but an offer from a Hollywood studio temporarily tabled that ambition. As first trombonist in the studio orchestra, he was featured in many of its films, getting special attention in the crooner sequence in "Invitation to the Dance," Gene Kelly starrer.

Performed with Top Stars

During this time, Si was also featured on many recordings with such luminaries as Gordon MacRae, Tony Martin, Frank Sinatra, and others.

Chaplain Williams Retires From Service

A Naval Reserve lieutenant commander was retired recently from Federal Service after serving nearly four years as Navy Chaplain at this national missile range.

Chaplain William D. Williams, who resides with his family in La Mesa, N. M., and is pastor of Methodist churches in La Mesa and Brasito, retired with some 21 years Federal Service to his credit.

Many of his required yearly retirement points were earned by serving one day a week at the Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility here.

He began his Naval service in 1941 and through

World War II served at the Naval Training Center, San Diego; the 14th Naval District Chaplain's Office in Pearl Harbor; aboard the USS Copahue in the Pacific, and at the Naval Hospital, Corpus Christi.

In December 1945, he was released from active duty and returned to his ministerial career, serving as pastor of Methodist churches in Tacoma, Wash.; Denver; St. Louis; Reno and in New Meico.

He availed himself of three years of G.I. Educational Benefits following his wartime service, taking elective and graduate courses at colleges and universities in Tacoma and in Denver.

Officers Tour WSMR Facilities Especially Navy

A group of 27 officers from the Naval Service Weapons Training Unit at the Naval Air Facility at Andrews AFB, Washington, D. C., arrived here Thursday for a two day tour of missile facilities and operations at White Sands and Ft. Bliss.

The group, including two WAVE officers, was welcomed to White Sands by Capt. Carter L. Bennett, Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility commander.

The majority of the day Friday was spent in viewing Navy operations at this national missile range.

Included in the Navy tour was a discussion of the types of testing and instrumentation utilized in the Talos/Typhon missile programs and tours through the Aerobee high-altitude research rocket laboratory, missile assembly hangar, telemetry installation and "Boneyard" where impacted missiles are kept on file.

The group also visited the Navy's Desert Ship firing installation.

Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, the group toured a portion of the Army facilities here and at Ft. Bliss.

The necessities of today were the luxuries of yesterday.

Talos Training Unit Goes to California

The Talos Training Unit has been moved from its birthplace at the Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility here to the Mare Island Naval Shipyard at Vallejo, Calif.

During the two years of its existence, the unit has given instruction to Fire Control Technicians aboard guided missile ships in the fleet in the operation of the fire control system of the Talos surface-to-air missile.

At its establishment, the school staff consisted of one officer and six enlisted instructors. It subsequently was increased to eight instructors and, early this year, due to the requirements of training Fire Controlmen for new construction, to 16 instructors.

CWO Warren H. Griswold was officer-in-charge of the school at the time of its transfer to California.

FHA TO HELP RECREATION PLANS

Farmers and ranchers may now apply to the Farmers Home Administration for loans to buy, develop, enlarge, and operate recreational enterprises on family-size farms. Individual development of such areas has long been advocated by the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish.

Enterprises that may be financed by FHA include camp grounds, swimming facilities, tennis courts, riding stables, vacation cottages and lodges, boating and fishing waters, docks, nature trails, picnic grounds, and hunting preserves.

Interested persons may get full information by writing FHA, US Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C. or from their own county FHA office.

GAME BENEFITS BY WATERING UNIT

The umbrella-type watering unit in the Hatchet Mountains is serving its purpose admirably, according to Game Manager Phil Freeman. On an inspection tour last week, Freeman, Jimmie Johnson and Dick Raught saw evidence of bighorn sheep, javelina, and deer using the watering unit.

There are several more watering units in the Hatchet Mountains, but at the moment there is only one umbrella-type. Last February two such units were installed by the Department of Game and Fish, but one blew away soon after installation. It will be replaced.

HUNTER CASUALTIES UP
Injury and death from gun-caused hunting accidents so far this year have exceeded all of the 1961 casualties known to the Department of Game and Fish.

As of November 30, eight deaths and 38 non-fatal injuries were known to the Department. With another month to go, this year's casualties will no doubt top 50. In 1961 there were six deaths and 35 non-fatal gun injuries among hunters.

More than half the cases this year are known to have been self-inflicted injuries, including three of the fatalities. Twenty-one of the casualties occurred among rabbit hunters, and this figure too included three of the deaths. Sixteen victims were youngsters under 18 years of age, and this included two of the deaths. Shooters under 18 years numbered an even dozen.

The greatest single cause of accident involved a loaded firearm in a vehicle. There were eight such cases, including two of the deaths.

M/Sgt. David Y. Watada, Administrative NCO, Systems Test Division, Test and Evaluation Directorate: "I was only 16. We were playing football in a park near the Pearl Harbor naval base. Although the attack occurred two miles away from us, we did see the planes diving out of the clouds amid the smoke and anti-aircraft fire. We thought at first it was a maneuver until a policeman came to the park and sent us all home on the double. He said this was war."

Mrs. Margaret Montecalvo, Administrative Assistant, Information Office: "I was working for the Navy and lived on Hickam Field. I was sleeping that morning. When I heard the noise made by the exploding bombs, I thought it was the Army on maneuvers again. When I went outside, I saw the red balls on the wings and fuselages of the planes which I thought were only practice targets. Then I saw the billowing smoke from Pearl Harbor and assumed it was just a smoke screen. I went back to bed and slept soundly the rest of the morning. When I awoke much later, I found that everyone else had evacuated the area."

At Your Service Club

Welcome to December and to your Countdown Service Club holiday program. White Christmas or not, a blizzard of fun is scheduled for the yule season.

An old-fashioned Christmas, intended to evoke memories of merriest Christmases past, is planned for you. Blazing yule logs, egg nog and cookies, carol singing and pinata parties will chase away the last bit of Scrooge. Supplies are available every evening as an invitation to you to make a Christmas ornament. A spurt of paint here, a dab of glitter there and you will be amazed by the beautiful ornaments which can be made. With a little bit of luck and imagination a tumbleweed can become a snowman. As your ornament is displayed at the Club for judging and its beauty and individuality shared with others, we are sure you will experience a sense of Christmas gladness. Still another way of expressing your individuality is by creating your own personal Christmas card. Truly ingenious cards can be fashioned in the club that will delight your family and friends "because you cared enough" to make it.

The latest additions to the club record library, ranging from twists to jazz, folk songs to mood music, will be previewed on Saturday evening. Many are an invitation to dance which we hope you will accept.

On Sunday afternoon the Spirit of Christmas, in terms of fellowship and good will, will be engendered as carols

Charles N. Reed, Assistant Chief of Logistics (G-4): "I was on duty as an MP Sergeant at Camp Bowie, Tex. when one of our company officers came running and informed me of the news. We were all dumbfounded. My strangest recollection of that day was the effect of Pearl Harbor on my unit. It caused us to set aside the individual personality clashes and problems. We immediately adopted complete team work with each and every one pulling together as a team for the unit."

(U.S. Army)

are sung around a blazing fire. This is a most pleasant way to spend a lazy afternoon although it is hoped that the more ambitious will try their luck making decorations and Christmas cards. Sports movies on Tuesday evening will entertain those preferring to stay out of the spotlight but Pvt. Ruffington's Drama Class at 1930 hours will intrigue all those who enjoy the spotlight.

WSMR Kicks Off Joint Annual AER & ARS Campaign Fund

White Sands Missile Range kicked off its annual joint Army Emergency Relief and Army Society fund campaign earlier this week. Here at WSMR, both these worthwhile organizations are combined and the purpose of the joint campaign is twofold, (1) to raise with least possible burden the minimum funds necessary to permit both organizations to operate without an annual deficit and (2) to keep all members of the Army informed concerning the financial assistance which they and their families may receive.

Army Emergency Relief came into force on 5 February 1945 for the purpose of collecting and holding funds to relieve distress members of the Army (Continued on Page 5)

CPO Club Members Give Santa A Helping Hand

Navy and Army members of the Chief Petty Officer's Club here will give Santa a helping hand this year by bringing Christmas a little early to some 25 boys and girls from the Southwest Children's Home in El Paso.

The children will be guests of honor at a party to be held at the CPO Club, Saturday, 22 December 1962, according to Chief Boatwain's Mate Anthony "Tony" Romanowitz, who is the project chairman again this year.

Included in the festivities will be XMAS dinner with all the trimmings, movies, ice cream and cake, Chief "Tony" said.

Santa will take time out from his last minute rush to be on hand to pass out gifts to the youngsters.

Each of the children have been sponsored by Chiefs, MSGts and their families, who are members of the Club. A tree, gifts of clothings and toys will all be provided ahead of time by the sponsors.

This project, truly in the holiday spirit, is only one of the countless public services performed through the years by Armed Forces members to foster better community relations.

"Mistletoe Ball"

The WACS, USO girls, student nurses, and coeds from the University of New Mexico have all been invited to attend. The NCO Wives have been asked to assist as hostesses for the gala event. Included in the festivities will be prizes, awarded to the UNC and EM for the most attractive decorative ornament . . . All enlisted personnel and their families are invited to attend the "Mistletoe Ball" and listen to some of the best dance music in the land, played by Si Zentner and his orchestra. (Sidenote) . . . ### "Christ is Born"

A special program — "Alleluia, Christ is Born" — will be presented at the Post Chapel next Tuesday at 2000 hours and next Thursday at 200 hours. Both performances will feature the WSMR Community Chorus, Missile Rangers Men's Chorus and — for the first time — The Chapel Children Choir.

Special Program To Highlight Women's Lunch

A special gala program will highlight White Sands Missile Range's Women's Club Luncheon on December 11 at 1230 hours at the Officers Open Mess. The luncheon, sponsored by the Splinters (wives of General Staff members), will feature the 40-voice El Paso Natural Gas Company under the direction of Mrs. Jim Guthrie. The chorus will perform music from Broadway shows, specialty numbers and Christmas selections.

The theme of the luncheon will be planned around the colors of blue, green and gold.

Baskets will be set up in the Officers Open Mess lobby to receive cookies for the servicemen donated by Womens Club members.

Mrs. J. F. Thorlin is the chairwoman for the luncheon. Decorating committee members include, Mrs. Jack Carstarphen, Mrs. Martin Cunningham, Mrs. John Mac Donald, Mrs. R. W. Newberry, Mrs. L. M. Sherman and Mrs. N. R. Smith, Mrs. L. W. Graham and Mrs. Sam Teitelbaum comprise the menu committee. Sherry table: Mrs. John Sinclair, Mrs. R. M. Shalz. Publicity: Mrs. M. S. Jaffe and Mrs. M. L. Kaplan.

Navy-Marine Officers Wives Hold Luncheon

For their November meeting, the Club attended a luncheon in Las Cruces hosted by Mrs. John Holz, Mrs. Thomas Moody, and Mrs. Dan Trinler. Cornucopias and fall colors enhanced the luncheon. Club chairman, Del Short, conducted a short business meeting after lunch. The raffle prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Bilderback an dby honorary member, Mrs. Martha Wenger.

Welcomed aboard last week was Mrs. Laurell Thomas and Mrs. Fran Knight, whose husbands were recently commissioned at OCS, Newport, R. I. At the Hail and Farewell party, Navy officers and their wives bid farewell to L. Jack Harris, LTJG Gary Porter, and CWO Warren Griswold. Missile models with appropriate inscriptions were presented to the departing officers by CAPT Benett, Commanding Officer of USNOMTF.

Protestant Women Of Chapel Meet

The Protestant Women of the Chapel will meet on Monday morning, 10 December, in the Activities Room of the Post Chapel. Coffee will be served beginning at 0900 hours, and the business meeting will begin at 0930 hours. The principal business of the morning will be the installation of officers for the calendar year '63. The new officers are: Mrs. E. R. DeBaets, President; Mrs. H. A. Nelson, Vice-President; Mrs. E. M. Matheson, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Frances Walker, Publicity Chairman; Mrs. P. L. Davis, Program Chairman; Mrs. C. F. McArthur, Fellowship Chairman; Mrs. R. B. Stuart, Refreshments Chairman; Miss Ramona Taft, Music; and Mrs. R. A. Piercy, Communication Steward. Following the business meeting there will be a program consisting of the singing of familiar Christmas carols by the entire group, two carols, "What Child is This?" and "I Wonder as I Wander," sung by Mrs. S. T. Reid, the showing of a Christmas film strip, some Spanish Christmas carols played on the recorder by Mrs. Winston Comer accompanied by Mrs. John C. Bane at the piano, and explanation by Mrs. Bane of some of the Christmas customs of the Spanish Southwest.

All Protestant ladies residing on post are cordially invited to attend.

Your America

By Clark Kinnaird
(AFPS American Heritage Foundation Feature)

The combat sea service of the United States with the longest continuous history is not the Navy, but is a force brought into being by act of Congress 172 years ago to crack down on tax evaders. Smuggling, which had been a patriotic activity during British rule of the Colonies, continued to be so common after the War of Independence that the new government was hard-pressed for supporting revenues. (It had been intended for customs duties to be a main support of the Federal establishment.) The Secretary of Treasury, Alexander Hamilton, asked Congress for ten boats with which to enforce the customs laws.

The name given to the organization originally, Revenue Marine, was changed to Revenue Cutter Service after the boats were sent to sea. All were of cutter types—that is, heavy keeled schooners that could carry plenty of sail for speed. Named respectively the Massachusetts, Scammel, Pickering, Diligence, Active, Argus, Vigilant, Virginia, South Carolina and General Greene, they were from 30 to 70 tons and carried from three to six swivel guns each. Maximum crew was ten, of which generally two were boys.

First man commissioned "Master of a Cutter in the Service of the United States" was Hopley Yeaton, who had served under Capt. John Barry on the frigate Raleigh during the War of Independence.

The Navy built up during the latter war had ceased to exist. The Revenue Cutters were the only armed vessels under the U.S.A. flag (except merchant ships equipped to protect themselves from pirates) from 1791 to 1798, when frigates were built to protect U.S. shipping from French Communist raiding vessels.

The Revenue Cutter Service, which always remained under authority of the Treasury Department in peacetime, was merged with the Lifesaving Service in 1915 to form the Coast Guard. It subsequently took over the Lighthouse Service.

Four Civilians Get Awards at Naval Ordnance

Awards were presented recently to four civilian employees of the Naval Ordnance Missile Test Facility here for suggested improvements ranging from the handling of incoming supplies to installation of a public address system.

J. W. Meredith, of the Navy Supply Department, received an award for suggesting an improved method of off-loading supplies and equipment arriving at the Facility by motor freight. Meredith, a Las Cruces resident who has been a Navy employee at White Sands since June 1955, also received a sustained superior performance award in the ceremonies conducted by Capt. Carter L. Bennett, Facility commander.

Lester Gowery, a Sheet Metal Shop employee also from Las Cruces, was cited by Capt. Bennett for suggesting improvements to pullways on the Aerobee high-altitude research rocket tower utilized by the Facility.

Earlier this year, Cowdry received a sustained superior performance award for his work at the Facility.

The suggestion that Post Exchange Mobile Cafeteria Service be made available to the Navy employees won a cash award for Mrs. Trinna Dunn, a Public Works employee from El Paso.

Mrs. Mary Funk of Organ, N. M., received an award for suggesting the installation of a public address system in the Navy Machine Shop.

Christian Associates, Realtor Are Exclusive Agents For The Beautiful And Restful San Andres Estates

The Christian Associates Realtor is a firm that if you are interested in good living, you should know more about. The Christian Associates are located at 1103 Lohman and their phone is JA 524-2834. The group is composed of Dorothy Christian of 1309 Stull Drive, phone JA 6-5179, Betty Stoes, North Hiway 85, phone 526-2246 and Mike Guerra, 506 East May Street, phone JA 4-4633. Why should you know more about them? Well one good reason is that they are the exclusive agents for the finest homes in New Mexico.

The San Andres Estates are located 1/2 mile from the northern city limits of Las Cruces and without a doubt one of the finest areas in the southwest. The property is located on beautiful, high land that once was one of the most fertile cotton farms in the area.

There is over 80 large, cool acres, just waiting for families and children to live and enjoy. Families can enjoy cool, country living, away from the city heat, traffic and noise, yet can enjoy all the city conveniences; which are only 3 minutes away.

The lots in San Andres Estates are limited to 1/2 acre minimums, the prices of the lots include utilities and paving, there are no additional charges to be assessed. There is a restrictive covenant that insures that your neighbor will take care of their property and that only fine homes will be constructed in the area by only the finest builders. There are homes completed in the area now and several more are in the planning stages. There is of course financing available on the lots.

There are several contractors with plans ready right now for lot owners to look at. The public school bus services will be on hand to serve the children of the Estates. Plans are made to keep unsightly utility poles in the background in the bridal paths.

Anyone that enjoys southwest living and believes in rately predicting those radio frequencies most effective for long distance transmission and interference-free receiving of radio signals to include those actual hours for best reception.

It has long been recognized that a very close coordination between users of the extremely crowded radio spectrum must be effected. We can easily understand for example, that two different trains cannot be on the same track at the same time and place going in the same direction. Apply this to a given radio frequency and we would see that one radio transmitter will interfere with the signal of another, if it is in reasonable proximity. Add to this the fact that radio waves are not respecter of either geographical or national boundaries and we can begin to see the need for a positive control effort.

The United States military departments became really devising a system for keeping records on manpower and equipment. The procedure was used on a trial basis first and then adopted permanently after it showed a savings of approximately $5,000 annually to the government.

Although his wife won the largest amount, Lozier, an equipment inspector with Post Quartermaster, claimed two separate awards totaling $205 - for a suggestion and a sustained superior performance rating. However, it's still the woman's prerogative to have the last word and, in this case, Mrs. Lozier has submitted two more suggestions which are being processed now.

The second-highest suggestion award was $100 presented to Ofelia Ramirez of Las Cruces. She is employed with Post Transportation and her suggestion is estimated to save the government some $1,200 a year.

In a geographical breakdown of the honored employees, from El Paso were Ruth S. Davis, Frances S. Schaulis, Armida Alvarez, Donald K. Tischler, Jack White, Floyd A. Wood, A. J. Roman, V. H. Hernandez, K. W. Murr, A. G. Schadle, Manuel T. Estrada, David H. Meier, W. J. Richards, Richard J. Dembinski, and J. E. Butterfield.

ated her brood saying it was nothing, but as they walked through the streets they saw the news headlines and that the Japanese merchants had already closed their shops.

It seemed almost an obsession that they return to Santa Rita and with great difficulty they managed finally to get transportation. They carried as much food and clothing as they could manage, leaving their household goods behind.

During the war years, they remained in Santa Rita in comparative safety. Their one underlying fear was being discovered by the Japanese as the family of an American serviceman.

Although the townspeople were loyal and protected them, their mother hesitated to send them to school because of registration requirements. So their lessons were taught by an older sister who was a high school student.

More poignantly she talked of the death march of American and Filipino prisoners. Her relatives, she along with them, would walk three miles from Santa Rosa to Gua Gua to watch as though it were "some kind of parade." Or so it seemed to her. But in reality, the on-lookers were secretly observing for the sole purpose of giving aid to those fortunate enough to escape their captors.

They would provide clothing and food for those who were able to escape. Many of those who did, joined the USAPI guerrilla warfare movement against the Japanese. The USAPI was composed of Americans and Filipinos who fought unceasingly against the enemy.

Rosario says they learned later her father had been serving under Admiral Nimitz and the family was not reunited until 1945.

In 1945, the children resumed their formal education. Rosario, always interested in writing, entered the University of Santo Tomas at Manila to study journalism and received her degree in 1955.

She returned home to care for her mother. Mrs. Marino, who had kept the family together and survived the rigors of the war despite a chronic illness, passed away in 1956.

Rosario went to work as an information writer for the Dept. of Agriculture's extension service at Manila in 1957. It was also in this year she applied for a visa as an immigrant to the United States, but she was not to realize this dream until January, 1962.

She joined her brother and his family in San Diego where she enlisted in the Women's Army Corps shortly thereafter and was sent to Ft. McClellan, Alabama, for her basic training.

At the present time, she plans a long career in the military. She likes the discipline, the high objectives and goals of the Army and her eyes literally sparkle as she says, "I proud to wear my uniform and appreciate the wonderful opportunities which lie ahead."

in time of need and distress. Some of the circumstances concerning financial assistance from Army Emergency Relief are, travel expenses due to emergencies, payment of initial rent or payment to prevent eviction, and Privation of dependents due to any cause.

Army Relief Society

This organization is closely affiliated with AER through agreements which are renewed every three years. It was founded in 1900 specifically for the purpose of assisting needy widows and orphans of Regular Army personnel. Here at White Sands Missile Range, the Army Relief Society is combined with Army Emergency Relief, and a joint fund campaign is conducted once each year. The purpose of the joint campaign is, (1) to raise with the minimum funds necessary to permit both organizations to operate without incurring an annual deficit and (2) to keep all Army members informed concerning the financial assistance which they and their families may receive.

Chairman of the Army Emergency Relief fund at White Sands Missile Range is Lt. Reginald L. Barnes, Jr. of Troop Command.
